

THE ENGLISH MANNER IN CHINA

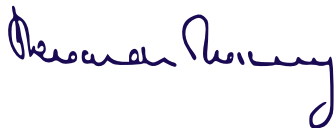

18th August 2016

The English Manner has been delivering first-class seminars, workshops and courses in etiquette protocol and household management in China since April 2011.

Today, The English Manner is represented and promoted solely in China by The Image Collective.

It has come to our attention that another organisation is using photos of our some of our tutors (Diana Mather and William Hanson) to promote their own, new, courses in China with a tutor, Paul Burrell, who is in no way affiliated with The English Manner or ever will be. We see this action as misleading and unprofessional.

We ask that people who wish to join one of our courses contact The Image Collective directly on info@theimagecollective.com.cn or 0086(0)21-52728331.
